NBJK
ANNUAL REPORT
2013-14

From the Secretary's Desk....

Dear Friends!

Let me reiterate and remind you all of our common vision of "Establishing a progressive, peaceful and just society based on the values of equality, fraternity and mutual help". Every year the annual report offers us opportunity to reflect and evaluate ourselves against the vision. The annual report, therefore, has to be read and considered in terms of our vision and goals focused on what has been achieved and what needs to be done further to make the achievement more pronounced as adherence to our vision. I am happy to present the Annual Report for the year 2013-14. The reporting period witnessed several innovative initiatives for the holistic development of the marginalised and weaker sections of Jharkhand & Bihar where we work. Year 2013-14 will be remembered for achieving notable milestones which set bench marks future interventions ensuring sustainability.

In Eye Care, NBJK successfully initiated the diagnosis and treatment of Diabetic Retinopathy – perhaps the first in the state offering state of art technology made available to the poor marginalised sections at affordable cost. A bus, donated to eye hospital, improved the facilities to reach and transport the cataract patients from the remote areas to the hospital easily as free service. More number of experienced eye surgeons joined us in year 2013-14, to provide quality services & proper attention to the inflow of about 40,000 patients annually.

"Swabal" initiative has been also our dream-project in which differently able people are now being linked to sustainable livelihood opportunities in their preferred skill via the locally successful entrepreneurs, solving the issues of isolation, financial-dependence and mobility. Another incredible project, and first of its kind in Northern India, has been "Carers' Care", who were invisible marginalised section engaged to serve the differently able and mentally ill patients of their family throughout their life without any reward. Nobody has intervened in their life earlier to share their problem, mental tension and financial hardship.

The use of mobile-phone-technology to monitor and improve the quality of government health services, has also been a successful new intervention during the reporting period in Ranchi district, which may get long term effect towards improving quality of public sector services desired by common rural mass. Also, in the environment front, for Carbon Emission Reduction project was initiated towards environment cleanliness. The linkage with government funding on so large scale under IWMP watershed projects in Koderma and Dumka districts was unprecedented in NBJK history.

Besides, those new and innovative initiatives, NBJK continued its approach of integrated development by continuing most of its programs on health, education, livelihood, networking and advocacy, described at large in coming pages, creating better & happy life of over 1,50,000 beneficiaries directly.

NBJK was also sort listed in the panel for the Jamnalal Bajaj Award and their team found NBJK a very credible organization promoting over 100 good NGOs in Bihar and Jharkhand which is rarely done by other voluntary organizations. We have also been recognized under "Amazing Indians" - Mahindra "Spark the Rise" and our work on eye care was broadcasted by "Times Now" TV Channel on 1st Feb. 2014.

All these programs have been only possible due to continued and generous support of over 30 institutional donors and as many as hundred individual supporters directly and through GiveIndia, to whom I, on behalf of NBJK, extend heart-felt gratitude and thanks. I also want to acknowledge the kind support of Mrs. Kay Avila and Mr. Kamal Parashar from U.K., who volunteered their professional skills and infrastructure to make impressive short films on various issues, uploaded on you-tube. The hard work, dedication and commitment of our board members and staffs is warmly acknowledged. It is hoped that the achievements of the year 2013-14 will set new milestones for the coming year 2014-2015.

Thank you very much,

Satish Giriya
Secretary
